

HRLAW

WICA Implications for HR

The Work Injury Compensation Act (WICA) has implications for employers as they are deemed as liable if an employee is injured. As such they are required to pay medical expenses and compensation, even if it is not their fault, when an employee is injured at the workplace or during the course of work. This applies in any work environment, be it a factory, office or retail outlet.

Reply | HRLAW Community | Archives | Forward

The Work Injury Compensation Act (WICA) & Its Practical Applications - 7 Jan - Confirmed

The government has mandated that all employees, regardless of salary, shall be covered under WICA. This seminar provides participants with good knowledge of an employer's legal obligations under the Work Injury Compensation Act. ...more

Your Advertisement Here?

We offer very affordable rates for advertising jobs or non competing products and services to our HR Community. ...more

HRSINGAPORE® HRLAW™

A Decade of Helping HR People Succeed!

Share on Facebook

Send to Twitter

Forward Email

